[illegible]

I have the enormous privilege of working with a group of film programmers who are as inquisitive and kind as they are discerning and passionate. Their work and personalities are imprinted all over the lineup; a group of films that is global in scope and includes discovery titles, hotly anticipated films, and powerhouse shorts blocks. Now more than ever we need the art of cinema—to entertain, to provoke, to question, and to inspire—and each film in this lineup is richly deserving of our attention.
